

It?s no culinary masterpiece, but it cost us about £1.50 for two decent plates of food and some Chicken for Tigger the cat.

So shoddy presentation aside, all?s good! The Cajun Chicken breasts were reduced from £3.00 to 90p. I?d not normally give them a second look at £3.00 as I can often get a whole Chicken for less. But 90p? Oh why not...

All we had with them were some coated Potato wedges (Our recipe is here) minted Peas and a bit of Brown Sauce. See we can do simple!